

The Old Police Cells

For a history fix and maybe even a spot of ghost hunting while you're getting married we recommend the Old Police Cells in the basement of Brighton Town Hall.

The ceremonies take place in the central space. All keys, balls and chains are safely locked away, although handcuffs are available for photo opportunities. As part of your celebration tours of the Police Cells can also be arranged.

The police cell's capacity is 30 guests. Available 7 days a week. ▼

Brighton Town Hall

Brighton & Hove Registration Service is located in Brighton Town Hall, a remarkable building designed by Thomas Cooper which houses most of the district's important life events.

The foundation stone was laid by Thomas Read Kemp in 1830, which was also the Year George IV (otherwise known as The Prince Regent) took his final breath after a full, rich and some would say 'extravagant' life. His legacy and style live on in the fabric of our city.

The Regency Room

The Regency Room is our most popular ceremony room. Guests are seated around the unique antique 'horse-shoe' shaped furniture, creating a friendly and intimate atmosphere. The ambience and character of the room means it is perfect for celebrating large ceremonies, and yet still suitable for those who would prefer a more personal and private ceremony.

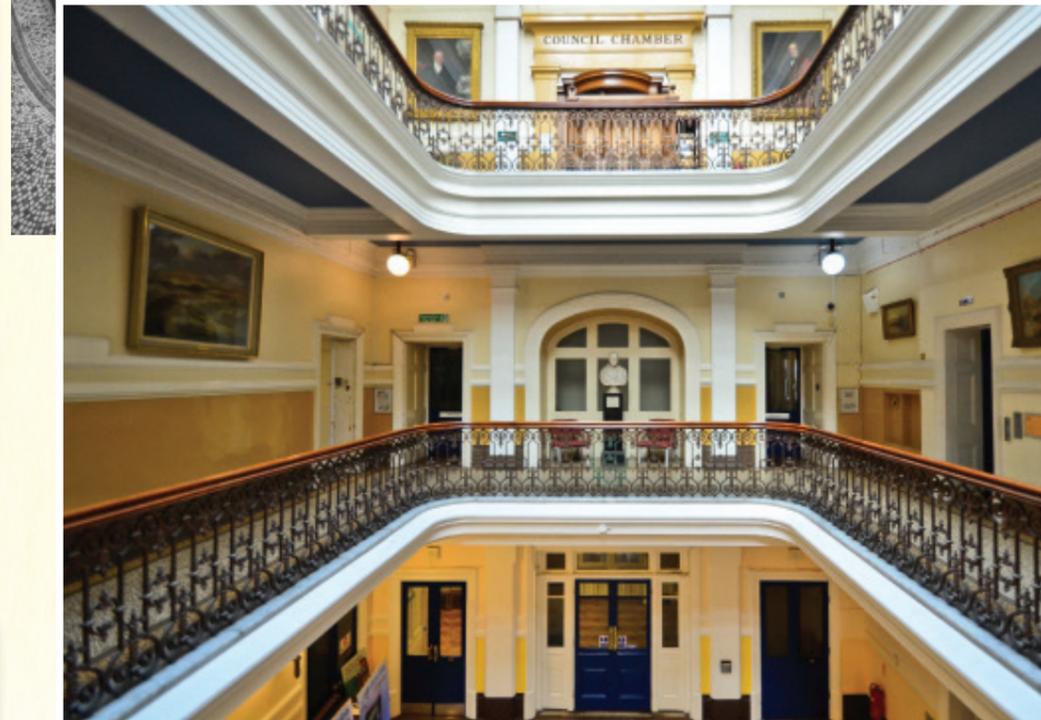

The Regency Room also offers an online 'wedcast' service to your invited virtual guests, friends and family living abroad or unable to make your ceremony.

The Regency Room's capacity is for up to 50 guests (34 seated) and is fully air conditioned. Available 7 days a week.

The Council Chamber

The Council Chamber is situated at the top of the ornate central staircase of Brighton Town Hall on the second floor. The Council Chamber is a grand and beautiful room with original features such as carved chairs and leather inlaid desks. The chamber is primarily used by Brighton and Hove city's elected councillors. It also hosts national conferences, citizenship and award ceremonies. It is used as a venue for art events during Brighton Festival and for weddings throughout the year.

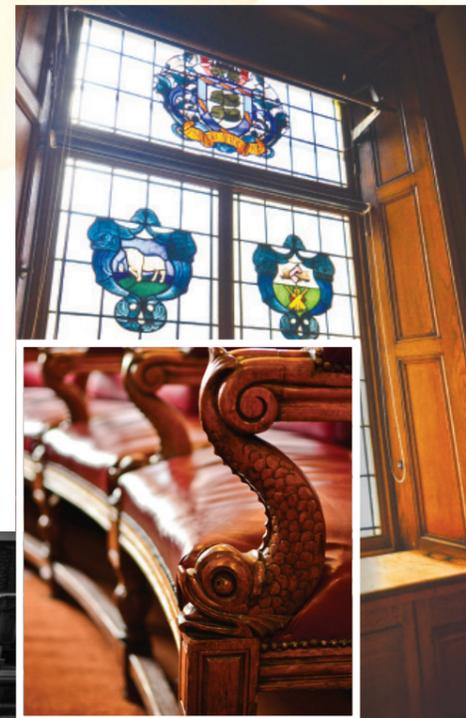

Because the Council Chamber is on the second floor of the Town Hall, the room is accessed either by using the central staircase or by lift. If you do use the staircase, on your journey, you will see many of the city's treasured paintings and walk upon the decorative original mosaic floors that are set throughout the Town Hall until you arrive at the entrance to The Council Chamber.

Beyond the Chamber's wooden and acid etched glass revolving doors are the oak panelled walls and beautiful leaded and stained glass windows which are decorated with symbolic coats of arms. The carved oak seats for guests are covered in red leather and are set in crescent shaped formation.

An aisle leads to the front of the Chamber where the ceremony takes place.

If you or any of your guests have severe mobility issues please let us know at the time of booking.

The Council Chamber's capacity is 120 guests. Available 7 days a week.
