Brighton & Hove Libraries - Reading Group Guidelines

Brighton & Hove libraries have sets of books especially for loan by reading groups in the City. The collection is made up of recent bestsellers, classics, contemporary novels, popular non-fiction, a range of literary fiction, and some experimental writings, all chosen to provoke discussion.

How do we set up our group?

Email BookGroupsLibraries@brighton-hove.gov.uk with the following information:

- Group name
- Lead contact name for the group card
- Lead contact details including a telephone number and email address
- Pick up location e.g. Jubilee Library

You can ask at any Brighton & Hove Library for an Annual Private Book Group subscription card, which costs £30 per year. You’re group will be issued with a card, which you can use to issue your books for a 6 week loan.

How do we reserve books?

There are over 50 book groups across the city which use our service, therefore, some of the more popular sets may become fully booked. To have the best chance of reserving the books your group would like to read, please be as prompt as possible with your requests and ask as far in advance as possible for your years’ worth of reading. If you haven’t been sent the current book list, you can request a copy by emailing the bookgroupslibraries@brighton-hove.gov.uk address.

Whenever you want to reserve books for your group email BookGroupsLibraries@brighton-hove.gov.uk with the following information:

- Your group’s name.
- Your book choice (title and author).
- 2 or 3 backup book choices (in case your first choice is already reserved).
- The library you would like to collect your books from.
- The number of copies you need in a set.

How many books are in a set?

Each set contains ten copies.

How long can we borrow them for?

Sets are available for six week loan periods. After this time, fines will be charged against the book group card. Longer loan periods are possible by prior arrangement, but the books cannot be renewed. Please make every effort to return the entire set in time, as there is likely to be another group waiting to use them.
The 19th Wife  New 2017
Ebershoff, David  Pages: 598
Jordan returns from California to Utah to visit his mother in jail. As a teenager he was expelled from his family and religious community, a secretive Mormon offshoot sect. Now his father has been found shot dead in front of his computer, and one of his many wives - Jordan's mother - is accused of the crime.

For one small group, a tour of the nearby Horsehead Nebula is meant to be a short but stunning highlight in the trip of a lifetime. But when a mysterious ship destroys Sigma Station and everyone on it, suddenly their tourist shuttle is stranded. They have no weapons. No food. No water. No one back home knows they're alive. And the mysterious ship is hunting them.

Alarm Girl
Hannah Vincent  Pages 177
Paperback
When 11-year-old Indigo and her older brother Robin arrive in South Africa to stay with their father, they find a luxury lifestyle that is a world away from their modest existence back in England. But Indigo is uneasy in the foreign landscape and confused by the family's silence surrounding her mother's recent death.

All Quiet on the Western Front  Modern classic
Erich Maria Remarque  Pages: 216
Paperback
In 1914 a room full of German schoolboys, fresh-faced and idealistic, are goaded by their schoolmaster to troop off to the 'glorious war'. With the fire and patriotism of youth they sign up. What follows is the moving story of a young 'unknown soldier' experiencing the horror and disillusionment of life in the trenches.

All The Light We Cannot See
Anthony Doerr  Pages: 530
Paperback
A beautiful, stunningly ambitious novel about a blind French girl and a German boy whose paths collide in occupied France as both try to survive the devastation of World War II.

American War  New 2018  SCI-FI
Omar El Akkad  Pages: 333
Hardback
Sarat Chestnut, born in Louisiana, is only six when the Second American Civil War breaks out in 2074. But even she knows that oil is outlawed, that Louisiana is half underwater, that unmanned drones fill the sky. And when her father is killed and her family is forced into Camp Patience for displaced persons, she quickly begins to be shaped by her particular time and place until finally, through the influence of a mysterious functionary, she is turned into a deadly instrument of war.

Animal's People
Indra Sinha  Pages: 366
Paperback
Ever since he can remember, Animal has gone on all fours, the catastrophic result of what happened on That Night when, thanks to an American chemical company, the Apocalypse visited his slum. Now not quite twenty, he leads a hand-to-mouth existence with his dog Jara and a crazy old nun called Ma Franci, and spends his nights fantasising about Nisha, the daughter of a local musician.

Are You My Mother?
Alison Bechdel
Paperback
This new memoir is about Bechdel’s mother - a voracious reader, a music lover, a passionate amateur actor. Also a woman, unhappily married to a gay man, whose artistic aspirations simmered under the surface of Bechdel’s childhood... and who stopped touching or kissing her daughter goodnight, for ever, when she was seven.

The Autobiography of Alice B. Toklas
Gertrude Stein
Paperback
For Gertrude Stein and her companion Alice, life in Paris was based upon the rue de Fleurus and the Saturday evenings. This is Gertrude’s own autobiography and a roll-call of all the extraordinary painters and writers she met.

Autumn
Ali Smith
Paperback
Fusing Keatsian mists and mellow fruitfulness with the vitality, the immediacy and the colour-hit of Pop Art - via a bit of very contemporary skulduggery and skull-diggery - 'Autumn' is a witty excavation of the present by the past. The novel is a stripped-branches take on popular culture, and a meditation, in a world growing ever more bordered and exclusive, on what richness and worth are, what harvest means.

Beatrice and Virgil
Yann Martel
Paperback
This is the story of a donkey named Beatrice and a monkey named Virgil. It is also the story of an extraordinary journey undertaken by a man named Henry. It begins with a mysterious parcel, and it ends in a place that will make you think again about one of the most significant events of the twentieth century.

Belonging
Umi Sinha
Paperback
Lila Langdon is twelve years old when she witnesses a family tragedy after her mother unveils her father’s surprise birthday present - a tragedy that ends her childhood in India and precipitates a new life in Sussex with her Great-aunt Wilhelmina.

Berg
Ann Quin
Paperback
Its opening line, 'A man called Berg, who changed his name to Greb, came to a seaside town intending to kill his father...' set the tone for a dark, psychological farce set in an unnamed seaside town that clearly resembles Brighton, which became the most critically acclaimed of Quin’s four novels. Quin is associated with a loosely constituted circle of ‘experimental’ authors in Sixties Britain.

Beware of Pity
Stephan Zweig
Paperback
Modern classic
In 1913 a young second lieutenant discovers the terrible danger of pity. He had no idea the girl was lame when he asked her to dance – his compensatory afternoon calls relieve his guilt but give her a dangerous glimmer of hope.

Birdcage Walk
Helen Dunmore
Pages: 406
Paperback

It is 1792 and Europe is seized by political turmoil and violence. Lizzy Fawkes has grown up in Radical circles where each step of the French Revolution is followed with eager idealism. But she has recently married John Diner Tredevant, a property developer who is heavily invested in Bristol’s housing boom, and he has everything to lose from social upheaval and the prospect of war. Soon his plans for a magnificent terrace built above the 200ft drop of the Gorge come under threat.

Black Boy
Richard Wright
Pages: 262
Paperback

Moved from home to home, from brick tenement to orphanage, Richard Wright had had, by the age of 12, only one year’s formal education. Gradually he learned how to survive in a world of white hostility, secretly satisfying his craving for books.

The Bone Clocks
David Mitchell
Pages: 595

Brothers in Blood
New 2019
Amer Anwar
Paperback  Pages: 448
Southall, West London. After being released from prison, Zaq Khan is lucky to land a dead-end job at a builders’ yard. All he wants to do is keep his head down and put the past behind him. But when Zaq is forced to search for his boss’s runaway daughter, he quickly finds himself caught up in a deadly web of deception, murder and revenge. With time running out and pressure mounting, can he find the missing girl before it’s too late? And if he does, can he keep her - and himself - alive long enough to deal with the people who want them both dead?

Burial Rites
Hannah Kent  Pages: 330
Paperback
Northern Iceland, 1829. A woman condemned to death for murdering her lover. A family forced to take her in. A priest tasked with absolving her. But all is not as it seems, and time is running out: winter is coming, and with it the execution date.

The Buried Giant
Kazuo Ishiguro  Pages: 345
Hardback
The Romans have long since departed, and Britain is steadily declining into ruin. But at least the wars that once ravaged the country have ceased. Axl and Beatrice set off across a troubled land of mist and rain in the hope of finding a son they have not seen for years.

The Call
Corinna Edwards-Colledge  Pages: 176
Paperback
The Call is a portmanteau style novella, telling the seemingly disparate stories of fourteen individuals trying to make sense of their lives alongside the caprices of fate and the behaviour of those closest to them.

Carol
Patricia Highsmith  Pages: 307
Paperback
Therese is just an ordinary sales assistant working in a New York department store when a beautiful, alluring woman in her thirties walks up to her counter. Standing there, Therese is wholly unprepared for the first shock of love.

Carry the One
Carol Anshaw  Pages: 253
Paperback
In the early hours of the morning, following a wedding reception, a car filled with stoned, drunk and sleepy guests accidentally hits and kills a girl on a dark country road. For the next twenty-five years, the lives of those involved are subtly shaped by this tragic moment.

Cartes Postales from Greece
Victoria Hislop  Pages: 429
Paperback
Week after week, the postcards arrive, addressed to a name Ellie does not know, with no return address, each signed with an initial: A. After six months, to her disappointment, they cease. But she must see this country for herself. On the morning Ellie leaves for Athens, a notebook arrives. Its pages tell the story of a man’s odyssey through Greece. A’s tale unfolds with the discovery not only of a culture but also of a desire to live life to the full once more.

A Case of Exploding Mangoes
Mohammed Hanif  Pages: 296
There is an ancient saying that when lovers fall out, a plane goes down. This is the story of one such plane. Why did a Hercules C130, the world’s sturdiest plane, carrying Pakistan’s military dictator, General Zia ul-Haq, go down on 17 August, 1988?

Paperback
One rainy evening in November, a handsome young stranger fresh off the boat pitches up at a counting-house door in Golden Hill Street: this is Mr Smith, amiable, charming, yet strangely determined to keep suspicion simmering. For in his pocket, he has what seems to be an order for a thousand pounds, a huge amount, and he won't explain why, or where he comes from, or what he can be planning to do in the colonies that requires so much money. Should the New York merchants trust him? Should they risk their credit and refuse to pay? Should they befriend him, seduce him, arrest him- maybe even kill him?

The Gustav Sonata
Rose Tremain
Pages: 308
New 2018
Paperback
On holiday one summer in Davos, two boys stumble across a remote building. Long ago, it was a TB sanatorium; now it is wrecked and derelict. Here, they play a game of life and death, deciding which of their imaginary patients must burn. It becomes their secret. 'The Gustav Sonata' begins in the 1930s, under the shadow of the Second World War, and follows the boys into maturity, and middle age, where their friendship is tested as never before.

Half A Life
V.S. Naipaul
Paperback
Springing from the unhappy union of a low-caste mother and a father constantly at odds with life, Willie is naively eager to find something that will place him both in and apart from the world. Drawn to England, and to the immigrant and bohemian communities of post-war London, it is only in his first experience of love that he finally senses the possibility of fulfilment.

Half Blood Blues
Esi Edugyan
Paperback
1940. In the aftermath of the fall of Paris, Hieronymus Falk, a rising star on the cabaret scene, is arrested in a café and never heard from again. He is 20 years old. A German citizen. And he is black. 50 years later, Sid - Hiero’s bandmate and the only witness that day - is going back to Berlin, where they first met.

Handsworth Times
Sharon Duggal
Paperback
Mukesh Agarwal sits alone in the Black Eagle pub unaware that a riot is brewing or that Billy, his youngest son, is still out on his bike. It is 1981, factories are closing, unemployment is high, the NF are marching and the neglected inner cities are ablaze as riots breakout across Thatcher’s fractured Britain. The Agarwals are facing their own personal nightmare but their pain is eased by family, friendships, and a community that refuses to disappear.

Hard Times
Charles Dickens
Paperback
In 'Hard Times,' Dickens illustrates the condition of England through the fictional city of Coketown. Among its inhabitants are Thomas Gradgrind, the utilitarian headmaster who attempts to impose his rigid worldview on his family circle, and the uncaring businessman Mr Bounderby. Their materialist philosophies are tested throughout the novel, which also explores workers’ conditions, trade unions and the spurious use of statistics.

Harvest
Jim Crace
Paperback
A trio of outsiders arrives on the woodland borders and puts up a make-shift camp. That same night, the local manor house is set on fire. Over 7 days, Walter Thirsk sees the harvest blackened by smoke and fear, the new arrivals cruelly punished, and his neighbours held on suspicion of witchcraft.

Not That Kind of Love
Clare and Greg Wise
Pages: 313
New 2019
Non-Fiction
Paperback
A moving, thought-provoking and surprisingly humorous book which is both a description of a journey to death and a celebration of the act of living. 'Not That Kind of Love' charts the highs and lows of the last three years of Clare's life. The end result is not a book that fills you with despair and anguish. Clare is an astonishingly dynamic, witty and fun personality and, as she becomes too weak to type, her brother - the actor Greg Wise - takes over, and the book morphs into a beautiful meditation on life, and the necessity of talking about death.

Paperback
A power-driven young woman has just one chance to secure the status she craves and regain priceless lost artefacts prized by her people. She must free their thief from a prison planet from which no one has ever returned. Ingray and her charge will return to their home world to find their planet in political turmoil, at the heart of an escalating interstellar conflict. Together, they must make a new plan to salvage Ingray’s future, her family, and her world, before they are lost to her for good.

Public Library and Other Stories
Ali Smith
Paperback
The stories in this collection are about what we do with books and what they do with us: how they travel with us; how they shock us, change us, challenge us, banish time while making us older, wiser and ageless all at once; how they remind us to pay attention to the world we make.

The Purple Cloud
M. P. Shiel
Paperback
A sweet-smelling, deadly cloud of poisonous gas has devastated the world. As Adam Jeffson travels the stricken globe in search of human life, he slowly succumbs to madness and unleashes fire and destruction on his planet.

Raft
Stephen Baxter
Paperback
A spaceship from Earth accidentally crossed through a hole in space-time to a universe where the force of gravity is one billion times as strong as the gravity we know. Somehow the crew survived, aided by the fact that they emerged into a cloud of gas surrounding a black hole, which provided a breathable atmosphere. 500 years later, their descendants still struggle for existence, divided into two main groups.

Rapture
Carol Ann Duffy
Paperback
A book-length love poem and a moving act of personal testimony.

Ready Player One
Ernest Cline

The Red Haired Woman
Orhan Pamuk
Hardback
On the outskirts of a town 30 miles from Istanbul, a master well digger and his young apprentice are hired to find water on a barren plain. The pair will come to depend on each other and exchange stories reflecting disparate views of the world. But in the nearby town, the boy will find an irresistible diversion. The Red-Haired Woman, an alluring member of a travelling theatre company, catches his eye and seems as fascinated by him as he is by her.

Rogue Lawyer
John Grisham
Paperback
Sebastian Rudd takes the cases no one else wants to take. Rudd believes that every person accused of a crime is entitled to a fair trial - even if he has to cheat to get one.

Sacred Country
Rose Tremain
Paperback
1952. Standing in a cold Suffolk field with her family, 6-year-old Mary Ward has a revelation: I am not Mary. That is a mistake. I am not a girl. I'm a boy. So begins Mary's heroic struggle to change gender. Moving from the claustrophobic rural community of the 1950s to London in the swinging 60s and beyond to the glitter of Nashville, Tennessee, capital of country music, this book is the story of a journey to find a place of safety and fulfilment in a savage and confusing world.

The Secret Life of Bees
Sue Monk Kidd

See You in September
Charity Norman
Paperback
When Cassy waved goodbye to her parents, they never dreamed that it would be years before they'd see her again. Cassy accepts an invitation to stay in an idyllic New Zealand farming collective. Overcome by the peace and beauty of the valley and swept up in the charisma of Justin, the community's leader, Cassy becomes convinced that she has to stay.
As Cassy becomes more and more entrenched in the group's rituals and beliefs, her frantic parents fight to bring her home - before Justin's prophesied Last Day can come to pass.

The Sellout
Paul Beatty
Pages: 288
Paperback
Born in the 'agrarian ghetto' of Dickens - on the outskirts of Los Angeles - the narrator is raised by a single father, a controversial sociologist, and spends his childhood as the subject in racially charged psychological studies. He is shocked to discover, when his father is killed in a police shoot-out, that there never was a memoir. Fuelled by this deceit and the general disrepair of his hometown, the narrator sets out to right another wrong: Dickens has literally been removed from the map to save California from embarrassment.

Sense of an Ending
Julian Barnes

Silas Marner
George Eliot
Pages: 218
Paperback
This novel was George Eliot's favourite. It concerns a bitter weaver who takes on a young orphan girl and gradually transforms his own life and that of the girl. The novel combines humour, rich symbolism and pointed social criticism to create an unsentimental portrait of rural English life.

Bleak. Frosty wind, earth as iron, water as stone, so the old song goes. The shortest days, the longest nights. The trees are bare and shivering. The summer's leaves? Dead litter. The world shrinks; the sap sinks. But winter makes things visible. And if there's ice, there'll be fire. In Ali Smith's 'Winter', life-force matches up to the toughest of the seasons.

The Wonder
Emma Donoghue
Paperback
New 2018
Pages: 349
An eleven-year-old girl stops eating, but remains miraculously alive and well. A nurse, sent to investigate whether she is a fraud, meets a journalist hungry for a story. Set in the Irish Midlands in the 1850s, 'The Wonder' - inspired by numerous European and North American cases of 'fasting girls' between the 16th and the 20th centuries - is a psychological thriller about a child's murder threatening to happen in slow motion before our eyes. Pitting all the seductions of fundamentalism against sense and love, it is a searing examination of what nourishes us, body and soul.
