EVENTS THIS MONTH

DATE	EVENT
Every Wednesday in January 1.00 – 2.00pm	Jubilee Library Café Area Free Lunchtime talks ‘Conversations under the Chandelier’ During January 2020, you’re invited to join us for a series of facilitated ‘Conversations under the Shine a Light Chandelier’. In the informal themed chats you can hear what other people are feeling, thinking and doing about the climate crisis. Share your ideas and connect with others in the community working to change the way things are now.
Wednesday January 8th – Wednesday March 25 th 1.0 – 2.30pm	Jubilee Library Community Space Free Women Only Drop in Do you want to practice English in a safe, fun group and meet other women? Would you like to be able to speak everyday English easily? We will cover situations like going shopping, ordering a drink at a café, going to the bank and practice more interesting topics like culture and current affairs. You will get supported practice, speaking in pairs and in small groups and everyone will get time to listen as well as practice. At the end of each class there will be some notes for you to practice by yourself and with others. You can join any time, but we recommend joining from the beginning. Suitable for all levels of English.
Wednesday 8th January 1.00 – 2.00pm	ME and the climate crisis In this first conversation, we’re starting with ourselves. How can we face this crisis and do what is needed? How do we start to confront our fear and the potentially paralysing feeling of helplessness? Joining us will be Tamsin Bishton and Charlie Peverett, organisers of Five Minutes on the Apocalypse, a local meet-up “born out of their own need to take the time and space to look ecological disaster in the eye from time to time”, and Jane Glezinska, an Eco psychologist who facilitates Ten Steps Towards Personal Resilience and Empowerment in a Chaotic Climate. This programme aims to help people collectively process grief and anxiety related to the climate crisis, and build community connections.
Wednesday 15th January 1.00 – 2.00pm	Our FOOD and the climate crisis Join us for the second conversation, where we’ll be talking about food. The way we farm, eat and shop now causes a huge amount of waste and uses a lot of natural resources. How can we change things? Joining us under the chandelier will be Thomas Daniel from Old

Library Events – January 2020

Wednesday 22nd January 1.00 -2.00pm	Tree Brewery and Helen Starr-Keddle from the Brighton & Hove Food Partnership. We'll be chatting about how we can connect with what we eat, empower people to grow and cook more of their own food, and develop food systems for a healthy and fair future. One where communities, rather than multinational corporations, have greater control over how food is produced and sold, and where there is no food poverty. THINGS and the climate crisis How do we use less and make sure the things we do buy last longer? How can we challenge the existing system where things are designed not to last? And the existing culture of 'needing' to own more and more 'things'? Join us at this week's Conversation to talk about the things we buy and use. This week we're joined by Victoria Jackson and Sam Jarman from the Brighton Repair Café and Claire Potter, an expert in circular design. We'll be chatting about everything from the circular economy, the sharing economy and zero waste living, to restart parties and our right to repair and enhance our electronic devices.
Wednesday 29th January 1.00 – 2.00pm	PERSPECTIVES and the climate crisis Imagination is the greatest resource we have in the face of the climate crisis. Yet our imaginations are constrained by our Western perspective. In our final conversation, we'll be discussing how we might begin to change that. This week we'll be joined by artist and producer Persephone Pearl from ONCA GALLERY and Peruvian documentary filmmaker, Ernesto Cabellos who has directed award-winning films that chronicle over 15 years of conflict between communities and mining companies in Peru including Hija de la laguna - Daughter of the lake. Together we'll discuss how creativity and stories are critical to our shared survival, helping to build bridges and expand the playground for our imaginations.
Launching on Tuesday 14th January then every Tuesday 10.30am – 12.30pm	Board Games in the Library Weekly board games session for adults run by Bronwen. Join in and meet new people or bring friends to play a range of games in the library. Learn how to play new games or revisit old favourites. All welcome. Board games will be available in the library to play every day during opening hours with the facilitated session once a week. In the Community Space on the ground floor

EXHIBITIONS

DATE	EVENT
Monday 7th October to Sunday 5th April	Moon Gazing: A display of rare lunar literature. Voyage through the spheres of astronomy, mythology, fiction and poetry. Library Events – January 2020

Until Saturday 30 th January	Shine A Light Exhibition The centrepiece to the ‘Shine a Light’ project is a chandelier created from bottle tops collected in Jubilee Library and along Brighton & Hove seafront. Volunteers spent days threading over 4,200 bottle tops to add to the chandelier, and it is now hanging in the library until the end of January 2020. A space to talk about the climate crisis We’re creating a small space where people can gather to have informal conversations, learn and reflect on how we can find courage and make changes to support each other and our natural world. We’re also planning a series of facilitated lunch time talks every Wednesday in January – keep an eye on www.adropintheocean.org.uk for further details. Ground floor
Friday 17 th to Saturday 25 th January	West Slope Development at the University of Sussex – Public Consultation The University of Sussex is seeking planning consent to develop the West Slope of the campus to increase residential space on the site. In the Foyer.
Thursday 23 rd January	Speak Up Against Cancer (Albion in the Community) Speak Up Against Cancer is Albion in the Community’s cancer awareness and early detection project. The main aim of the work is to raise awareness of the signs and symptoms of cancer and the importance of early detection, while promoting the NHS screening programmes to residents of Brighton and Hove. The exhibition will be raising awareness of bowel, breast, cervical, lung, prostate, skin and testicular cancers and the NHS screening programmes. In the Information Point.
